

Make a Difference...

Learn more about programs and publications that help make a difference in your classroom.

The North Carolina Bar Association offers a variety of programs and publications to help make teaching law-related topics fun and easy for K-12 educators.

Join your colleagues for a day of professional development and networking and come learn how you can implement the NCBA's engaging programs. You'll learn how you and your students can participate in this creative learning style and how these interactive programs will make a difference in your classroom.
