

Oyez! Oyez!

The North Carolina Bar Association Foundation & the North Carolina Academy of Trial Lawyers invite you to attend a workshop on

Conducting Mock Trials ("CMT")

Monday, December 3, 2007 - N.C. Bar Center in Cary, NC

- What is CMT?

CMT is a full-day workshop for North Carolina high school social studies teachers to learn more about courtroom procedure and how to conduct mock trials and moot courts in a classroom setting. Registration for this event is offered on a first-come, first-served basis and space is limited to 30 teachers.

- Who are the CMT Instructors and what will they discuss?

You will hear from and interact with lawyers and other legal professionals. CMT is designed to align with the North Carolina Standard Course of Study in Civics and U.S. History. You will play a role in an actual mini-mock trial and be provided with extensive resource materials.

- What is the cost and is CEU credit available?

Thanks to a grant from the North Carolina Bar Foundation, the program is free of charge to any North Carolina high school social studies teacher. (This includes lunch and materials, but not payment for travel or substitute teachers.) We will provide certificates of attendance for CEU purposes.

- How do I register to attend the December 3rd, 2007 event?

Registration is available via the North Carolina Bar Association Foundation's Law-Related Education (LRE) website: www.ncbar.org/lre.

- What if I have other questions or would like more information?

Contact Diane Wright or JoAnn Petilli, N.C. Bar Association, at (919) 677-0561 or LRE@ncbar.org.

We hope you can join us!
