

As many of you know, the Workers' Compensation Section of the NC Bar Association has adopted Kids' Chance once again as our pro bono project. Kids' Chance is a wonderful non-profit organization which provides scholarships to children of workers who were catastrophically injured or died as a result of a work accident. It is an organization which we, and the Workers' Compensation Section Council, wholeheartedly support. This year, as the entire Bar focuses on pro bono projects, I hope that our Section can join together to make a real difference in the lives of many young people through this worthy organization. For a fact sheet containing more information about Kids' Chance, click here <http://www.ncbar.org/download/workersCompensation/kidsChanceFactSheet.pdf>.

One easy way for you to help this cause is to support the upcoming Fourth Annual Kids' Chance Golf Tournament to be held Monday, November 10, 2008 at 10:00am at The Sedgfield Country Club in Greensboro, North Carolina. This golf tournament fundraiser has been, over the past three years, a large source of the funds which have been made available to students to attend college. There are several young people currently attending college on scholarships which have been provided by Kid's Chance of NC!
