Friday, April 7, 2017, 8:15a–4:30p

8:15a  Registration

8:55  Welcome and Introductions

9:00  Ethical Issues When Representing Minors and Persons with Disabilities
     William S. Mills

Mills addresses the ethical and legal ramifications of representing minors and persons with disabilities. The topic addresses the court's duty of protecting the rights of minors and incompetent persons along with the types of guardians that are acceptable to represent those rights. This session also explores the attorney's duties towards minors, incompetent persons and other family members, and guidance when conflicts arise.

9:45  New Law in UM/UIM Coverage
     J. Bruce Hoof and Ellen P. Wortman

Hoof and Wortman address the changing landscape of uninsured and underinsured motorist coverage and subrogation liens. In particular, they draw on their experience as counsel for insurers in Dion v. Batten, which addressed the interrelationship of Workers' Compensation liens and UIM coverage. The Court of Appeals decision in Dion represents an important shift in the law regarding subrogation liens that counsel for personal injury plaintiffs, Workers’ Comp carriers and UM/UIM carriers must know.

10:30  Break

10:45  Litigation Management and E-Discovery in Insurance Litigation
     Sonny S. Haynes and Brady A. Yntema

Haynes and Yntema covers the amended Federal Rule of Civil Procedure regarding preservation of electronically stored information, litigation holds, data retention and litigation management in insurance litigation, as well as practical advice for preventing and resolving spoliation motions.

12:45  Using Expert Witnesses Effectively
     John A. Chilson and Mark A. Finkelstein

Chilson and Finkelstein discuss best practices for identifying and vetting expert witnesses, working with and preparing expert witnesses for deposition and trial, including experts within your party’s trial story, and dealing with opposing counsel’s experts in discovery and at trial. In particular, they discuss various tools available to investigate expert witnesses, as well as techniques to develop effective evidence through expert testimony. Additionally, tips and techniques for direct and cross-examination of expert witnesses are shared.
