Solving hunger requires teamwork, and lots of it. Help out and volunteer at your local food bank.

LEGAL FEEDING FRENZY (#LFF20) is an annual joint program of the North Carolina Bar Association Young Lawyers Division and Feeding the Carolinas food banks, supported by a grant from the North Carolina Bar Foundation Endowment (nclegalfeedingfrenzy.com).

KICK-OFF EVENT | Attorneys, law students and legal professionals are invited to join Attorney General Josh Stein and Feeding the Carolinas CEO Mike Darrow on Friday, Feb. 28 from 1-3 p.m. at the local food bank in Raleigh (1924 Capital Blvd.) to kick-off the fundraiser. Attendees will have the opportunity to volunteer at the food bank doing various tasks, including sorting and packing food.

SIGN UP TO PARTICIPATE | To reserve space for you and members of your firm, email Erin Ball at erin@gardnerskelton.com. Attorneys and legal professionals are encouraged to volunteer at their local food bank during the month of March. Please contact Erin Ball if your firm is interested in coordinating an additional volunteer event.

VOLUNTEER EVENT PARTICIPATION BONUS | One hundred (100) pounds of food will be awarded as a bonus to each team that has an attendee at the #LLF20 kick-off event Feb. 28. Two hundred (200) pounds of food will be awarded as a bonus to each team that arranges an event for their firm at their local food bank during the month of March. Email Erin Ball at erin@gardnerskelton.com to receive credit for your participation.
