

Fight Hunger In North Carolina: Join the Legal Feeding Frenzy!

WHAT | Legal Feeding Frenzy is a month-long food and funds drive competition to see who can raise the most food per employee to benefit local Feeding the Carolinas food banks.

WHO | Law firms of all sizes (including those in public service), law schools, and corporate/in-house counsel.

WHEN | March 1–31, 2020

WHERE | Communities across North Carolina | Donations go directly to your local Feeding the Carolinas food bank.

WHY | To fight hunger | Around 1 in 4 children in North Carolina are food insecure. Over 1.5 million people, from children to seniors, in North Carolina are food insecure. Due to recent natural disasters, like Hurricanes Michael and Florence, there is an increasing number of North Carolinians struggling to feed themselves and their families. Legal Feeding Frenzy is an opportunity for the legal community to come together to make a difference.

MORE INFORMATION | Legal Feeding Frenzy is an annual joint program of the North Carolina Bar Association Young Lawyers Division and Feeding the Carolinas food banks, supported by a grant from the North Carolina Bar Foundation Endowment. Registration opens Monday, Feb. 17, 2020. For additional details, rules and registration, visit nclegalfeedingfrenzy.com.
