

THE ACTIVIST IN EACH OF US

by Marvin V. Horton

Our life is dull; Our job's a bore.
Others' actions just make us sore.

No one lead, no one follows –
All we do is sit and holla!

If all we do is vegetate, Pretty soon it's way too late:
To take a stand, to be a man, to save our land!

Now's the time for us to rise,
Take the blindfold from our eyes,
Stretch our brains and realize
Now's the time to energize –

Join our hands, gather round; Cherish new friends we have found;
Generate a positive sound; Celebrate our common ground.

For if we do, We're sure to find Happiness and peace of mind.

True wealth will flow into our hands;
Worries scam to other lands.

With such rewards if we activate,
Why do we ever hesitate:
 to make a start?
 to have a heart?
 to do our part?
